The Approaching Holidays.

About this time every year the people commence talking about Christmas and the gifts they will bestow. It is but little trouble for some to make selections; others find it very difficult to select just what they want. By looking through the show windows, it does seem like the desires of both the young and the old could be satisfied, as many handsome and useful articles, suitable for gifts, are on display. A mistake is often made in buying for children. Instead of selecting articles that are soon broken and thrown into junk piles, buy presents that are useful, something they can keep—nice books and articles that will not break from a slight fall.

Another thing should be strictly kept inviolable. Do not tell a child that old Santa is going to bring it certain things, and then have the child disappointed when the time comes. Stick to your promises, thereby making the little ones happy.

Columbia, like all towns of its size, has within its borders poor children, some of them orphans, hence arrangements should be made in due time, by the five Churches, whereby every child within the corporate limits should be remembered. Christian talks and Christian promises do but little good without action. Help the poor and when you lie down at night your conscience will be at ease and you will be blessed with peaceful sleep. We have never known a man who practiced real charity—giving to the worthy unfortunate, whom God did not prosper.

Lost.

From Tandy Hotel or on road between Columbia and Jamestown, on Nov. 27, a black Leather traveling bag. Will pay a reward of $5.00.

American Ever Ready Works, Long Island City, New York, who manufacture and sell to the retail trade flashlights and goods of like character, offered a medal, solid silver, for the window showing the most attractive display of their goods. Mr. L. L. Eubank, who is a salesman in the Paul Drug Company's Store, this place, and who is known as an artist in window dressing, entered the contest, dressed a window had it photographed, and the picture sent to the Ever Ready Works. More than one thousand contestants competed for the prize, the result to be named by competent Judges. After a careful inspection, Mr. Eubank was given the decision, and he received the medal last week.

The attention of the teachers in the county is called to the immense stock of candy at Nell & Hill's. 6-2t

The Louisville Times of last Saturday commented, editorially, on the steps Prof. Huffaker has taken, as School Superintendent, to compel parents to send their children to school. The article paid him a high compliment, and urged that he keep up the good work, and suggested that other Superintendents follow the course pursued by Prof. Huffaker.

Go to the 10c Store sure.

Rev. O. M. Johnson, of Dayton, O., has located in this place, and he and his wife are occupying rooms in the Hancock rooming-house, on Burkesville Street. He will have charge of the United Brethren Churches, outside of Columbia, in the Columbia district.

Dr. H. W. Depp has removed from Bomar Heights to the cottage he purchased from Mr. J. S. Breeding, located on the street leading from Mr. Breeding's residence to the Graded school.

We commence publishing a trip to California this week, written by Mr. W. T. McFarland. It will go on for several weeks, and is worth reading.

Household furniture for sale. Call on Rev. O. M. Johnson, Columbia, Ky. 6-2t.

A blind horse that belonged to Cortes Miller fell over the bridge, on Water Street, last Tuesday night which ended his earthly existence.

Attacked by Bull.

A. J. Bridgewater, fifty-five years of age, of Lebanon, Ky., a cattle salesman for Tatum, Embry & Co., was attacked by an infuriated bull in the company's cattle pen at the Bourbon Stock Yards last Thursday morning. He was severely bruised about the body and legs and probably would have been killed but for the timely arrival of employees of the stock yards, who rescued him as he lay helpless on the ground with a big animal trampling him.

Mr. Bridgewater is a man of large build, weighing over 200 pounds. The bull first rushed him, pinned him against the side of the pen. It hooked its head between his legs and tossed him over its back. He fell clean, but before he was able to arise the animal jumped on him with its fore feet. Stockmen, armed with heavy canes, rushed in and beat the bull off.

Mr. Bridgewater was removed to his boarding house, 1009 Story avenue, where he was attended by Dr. C. H. Hunt. In addition to the bruises he was badly shaken up and suffered a nervous shock. An examination revealed he sustained no broken bones. Although it cannot be determined until after a lapse of twenty-four hours. It is thought he is not hurt internally. —Louisville Times.

Mr. Bridgewater is a son of the late P. H. Bridgewater, and was born and reared near Cane Valley, Adair county. He has been a salesman at the Louisville Stock Yards for a good many years. He is well-known to all the stockmen in this section of the State.

Died in Burkesville.

Mr. W. H. Newby, who some years ago was a citizen of Columbia, residing in the property where Mr. W. H. Wilson now lives, died at his late home, in the suburbs of Burkesville, last Wednesday. He was about fifty-five years old and a good citizen, one who will be missed from the busy walks of life. He leaves a wife and perhaps one or two children. During his stay in Columbia he made quite a number of friends, all of whom will be sorry to learn of his demise.

Rabbits.

Live Rabbits, trap caught, not crippled, 15c each. Send them to W. T. Hodgen, Campbellsville, Ky. 6-1t

The people of Amandaville are determined to keep out of the creek and the mud. Cumberland county failed to accept State aid for road purposes, but the citizens living in the afore-said community have taken the matter in their own hands, and by private subscriptions, they have bought scrapers and other road machinery, and are now at work, building a metal highway which will afford an outlet in wet as well as dry seasons. They will expend thousands of dollars on this road which is coming in the direction of Columbia. We glory in their determination to bring about better road conditions.

I now have on hand pumps of all kinds for any depth well. Come and see my stock before you buy. 6-4t S. F. Eubank.

R. K. Young bought of R. F. Paull, last Thursday, two Aberdeen Angus male calves, four and six months old. These are fine specimens of this breed of cattle. Consideration, $150 for the two.

Don't leave Town until you see our line of new goods. We have many articles you may want. Wilson's 10c Store.

Mr. Ed Moss, the lineman for the Columbia Telephone Company, fell from a pole, on Bomar Heights, last Thursday, receiving a severe gash on his left arm and was otherwise bruised.

The show windows of the business houses about town are now attracting the attention of the Christmas shoppers.

Well-Known Minister Dead.

On Thursday afternoon, December 2, 1915, Rev. W. H. C. Sandridge, after a long illness, closed his eyes in death. The end came at his late residence in Greensburg. He was the pastor of the Presbyterian church of that place, and had been for a number of years. He was sixty-nine years old, and more than twenty years of his life he resided at Bliss, Adair county, and during his stay in this county he was the pastor of the church at Union, loved by his members and the community generally. He was truly a Godly man and his works will follow after him. The news of his demise brought sorrow to many homes in Adair county. The funeral services took place last Saturday, the sermon being preached by J. R. Crawford, of Pikeville, Ky.

Be sure to visit the window at Russell & Eubank next Saturday and save time and worry.

After the Game.

The Monticello Outlook, in commenting on the recent game of basketball played here, the former town High School team against Columbia High School team, makes the following statement which is absolutely correct: "The Monticello boys are offering all kinds of excuses as to how it happened, but the general opinion is that they got a fair, square licking, and the thing for them to do is to quit thinking they are IT and play harder."

Christmas Money for School Teachers.

The school teachers of the State will not have to wait for their Christmas money this year at least, for warrants amounting to $1,129,040.56 have been drawn on State Treasurer, Rhea, by Superintendent of Public Instruction, Barksdale Hamlett, for the double payment due the rural and city school teachers. Of this amount $919,746.46 goes to the rural school teachers and $209,294.10 to the city teachers.

Notice.

All who are indebted to me for millinery goods are kindly requested to settle at once. I need the money. 6-2t Mrs. R. W. Hurt, Gadberry, Ky.

The two National Guard companies, of Lexington, two from Louisville, and the companies of Richmond, Shelbyville, Eminence, Frankfort, Madisonville, Henderson with bands from Richmond and Hopkinsville are participating in the inaugural ceremonies which are going on at Frankfort to-day (Tuesday). The companies are under the command of Major C. W. Longmire, of Frankfort and Major Thompson B. Short, of Lexington, who is temporarily located at Columbia, being the manager of the Rapid Transit Company which runs between Columbia and Campbellsville.

We will have a nice line of Books and Bibles, suitable for Christmas presents. See them. Wilson's 10c Store.

The December number of the Review of Reviews is of special interest, and readers who are endeavoring to keep up with the European war should send for this very able magazine. The writings are based on facts and are written in a way that make the events of special interest. Besides war news this periodical deals in all other important matters. Address the Review of Reviews, 30 Irving Place, New York, N. Y.

You will find it at Wilson's 10c Store.

The business for the year 1915 is rapidly coming to an end. All outstanding debts must be paid, hence we want every dollar that is due this office. Every man who is behind on our books knows it, and we hope they will not delay longer in paying. We have our obligations to meet, and we must collect in order to do it. Come in and pay or send in a remittance.

Morrison & Baker, the hickory people of this town, started operations Monday on the Julius Gaskins yard. They will ship a two-car load this month.

Thompson-Ewing.

On November the 28th Mr. Claud G. Thompson was married to Miss Mabel Ewing. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. S. B. Ewing, Birmingham, Ala. The bride is a daughter of Mr. Wesley Ewing, who died at Campbellsville many years ago. Her mother, before her marriage to Mr. Ewing, was a Miss Borders, a daughter of Mr. George Borders, who was a citizen of Campbellsville for twenty years. The couple will reside in South Carolina. The bride's father was a son of Mr. Jas. R. Ewing and was born and partly reared in Columbia.

Born, to the wife of Attis McFarland, Jamestown, on the 30th, ult., a son.

Eloped to Jeffersonville.

Mr. Jas. Herriford, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Herriford, who recently removed from Columbia to Buffalo, Larue county, and Miss Neli Hindman, daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. L. C. Hindman, of Sonora, Hardin county, eloped to Jeffersonville, Ind., and were married last Friday night. The Hindman family also recently removed from Columbia to Hardin county.

This announcement will not be a surprise to the young couple's friends of Columbia and vicinity, as those who were on the inside have been expecting to hear of their marriage.

The groom is a very industrious young man, and the bride is a favorite.

Mr. Jas. S. Ray Dead.

Mr. Jas. S. Ray, who was a prominent lawyer of Louisville, died last Saturday morning, aged 69 years. When a young man he was a citizen of Columbia and boarded at the home of Judge Jas. Garnett, Mrs. Frances Wood, who was the mother of Mrs. Garnett being his aunt. He was a most efficient business man and a lawyer of recognized ability. He was the son of Preston Ray and was born and reared near Edmonton, Metcalfe county.

A Death.

The death of James Roberts occurred on Nov. 12th, 1915, about five o'clock, at Madison, Illinois, while employed in a car shop. He dropped dead while working on a car. Cause being heart trouble.

On receiving a telegram I left on the first train to be at the bedside and to see after the burial of my deceased brother.

B. L. Roberts.

Card of Thanks.

Mr. J. K. P. Dixon, who lost his wife two weeks ago, desires to express his also the other surviving members of the family, their grateful thanks for the many kindnesses shown during the wife and mother's illness. HISTORICAL PAPER.

A Trip to California and Other Interesting Places.

To the Readers of The Adair County News:

A trip to the West and Southwest, also to the Panama Exposition at San Francisco, Cal. We boarded Myers & Son's large Auto Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, a. m., Aug. the 3, 1915. We are now off for Campbells-ville, a twenty-mile ride. This space was soon covered and we arrived in due time, had a nice lay-over waiting for the train until 3:30, p. m. Then the Greensburg mixed train came along took us up shook us about and at 5 o'clock set us down in Lebanon, Ky., and here we had another two-hours rest. Then there came along a faster train took us in and we are now speeding for the city of Louisville. Leslie Johnson and myself being together, the time soon passed. We arrived at 10th and Broadway Station at 9:00 o'clock, p. m. We went directly to the Victoria Hotel, spent a good night, meeting several of our party and with others, Mr. J. T. Crutcher, who was to chaperone the crowd. Wednesday morning, at 8:35 o'clock aboard a steel Pullman sleeping car and now we are off for the big trip. We took the Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis R. R. We went down the Ohio River passing through several nice little towns, Owensboro and Henderson, crossing the river into Indiana. We passed through Evansville, a very nice little city. Crops in many places were drowned out or badly damaged. So here we are in St. Louis waiting our change. After a short time we are switched to the Missouri Pacific and leave St. Louis at 9:00 p. m. We go to bed, have a good night's rest, and are up early Aug. 5th, and find ourselves nearing the Kansas line. I am pleased with a good deal of this country. While the corn crop was not what I expected to see having been so much wet weather. Most all the wheat still in the field and I saw one man reaping wheat. It had straw-fallen and seemed to be as dry as a shuck. I found out by asking that we are now in Colorado. Quite a number of towns and places we might mention, but space and time will not admit.

We come now into the city of Pueblo, Col., one of the business places of the west. While here we have been pleased to see just how people do things. They mean business and do business. We leave this point now for Colorado Springs, Garden of the Gods and Pikes Peak. Well, this trip has been made, about it I now write. The boiling up of this mineral water is a wonder, of which we all drank freely, and afterwards felt much better, and now we take automobiles and tour the Gardens of the Gods. I hear you ask before I commence a description, "What is the Garden of the Gods?" And to answer this question I'll be honest and say, I don't know, but here is what I find. First, our attention was directed to three, let me say, big rocks. Those rocks could not be described to make the reader sensible or see them as they are. They stand 380 feet high. Are of a yellow or reddish color. Stand on end or edge-wise and have the appearance that they had fallen from the sky. They have a very peculiar shape. Near the top of two of them our attention was directed to what they called the kissing elephants and you could see the picture.

We next visited a house that would take the traveler away back. We found here an old Indian whittling out his bow as in ancient time. They had relics and souvenirs to sell. Saw a petrified Indian, so said to be. So we are called off here by Mr. Crutcher to the Sunnyside Hotel for dinner. The dinner was fine and much enjoyed by all, and now comes the excitement. We are to start in a few minutes to the top of Pikes Peak. Yes, we got there all right. Have been to the top and have returned to the bottom safely, and now what about it. First, will say it is over 14,000 feet high and takes over two hours to go to the top on a train. On a train did you say? Yes, we went up on a train. One that was made especially for the business. An ordinary track was laid and in the middle of this track was also layed a row of cogs, and this row of cogs were so adjusted and attached to the engine that it made safe the going up and coming down. The distance we travel on this line is nine miles. A very steep grade in some places. You may be surprised when I tell you that the last one and one-half mile has a 25 per cent. grade. Yes, you do feel very queer indeed on top of this hill.

Now let me stop and say I cannot describe it to-day. But one thing don't you know, The top was white with snow. Stop and wait, hear what I say. Yes Sir, it is snowing here to-day. This is no lie. No not at all For our company is now playing snow-ball.

To look away makes one weak, From here you can see Cripple Creek, And dear friend don't you know You can see Denver Colorado. I stop here and and go down Some other time I'll come around. Back now to our train we go Then on to Denver Colorado. Yes, here we are just feeling fine. Got here on splendid good time. But after supper everything quiet We concluded to stay all night. After staying all night, am glad to say We conclude to tour the city next day. And after this is all over, I will certainly come back And give you a description, If you think you would like. Well the trip is over and we are back again, And from writing poetry I cannot refrain. We took a touring car went all around,

We find Denver just a splendid good town, And just here by the way, I have something else I wish to say, In this great city as you know, The people hustle and they sure go, We toured the city for two hours, Admiring its grandure and its flowers, We also made a visit to the park, Here we could have stayed until dark, They had every thing from buffalo down, Even the bald eagle with his crown, The monkey and the Polar bear, They in numbers were there, The coon and the wild cat, Elk and deer, what do you think of that? The hoot owl with its noted horns, And the parrot with feathers that adorns.

We left the city at 10:00 o'clock, a. m., came back by way of Pueblo, and entered Feather Canon or Royal Gorge, through Castle Gate. You may ask what Royal Gorge is. I say scenery or show. In other words, sight seeing, or seeing sights I cannot describe, but there are hills and bluffs hundreds of feet high. Some of them seem to hang completely over the railroad. I looked and looked till my eyes were sore. It is dark now so I cannot look any more. While asleep we passed Continental Divide, or Tennessee Pass. So I am up Sunday morning at 4 o'clock looking for another rock. We were now traveling through the Rockies, and many wonderful sights to be seen.

We are now making what is called Loop-it-to-loop, or in other words winding down the side of the mountains. We are moving on now, and it has been an eventful day—many things to attract attention. I have been amused many times to-day watching prairie dogs hustle to their holes or stand on their hind feet and look and listen to see and hear what would be the next thing done. Some of our crowd, when opportunity was afforded threw rocks at them, but by the time the rock got there the dog was gone.

The next thing I wish to speak of is a coal mine near the railroad, quite a dirty looking crowd coming out and going in on the side of the mountain. There were Hobos, Dagoes, little mule dump carts, and near the place were some nice farming lands, some nice stock. wheat harvesting was going on, and gardens were looking pretty and green, and would remind you of a garden on "Pea Ridge" in Columbia. I am reminded here that we are in Utah, and nearing Salt Lake. Well, we ran into Salt Lake Sunday eve August the 8th at 7 p. m. (I mean the city, not the lake.) While it was our purpose to see the lake, we were informed on arrival that a train would leave for that point in five minutes. Then there was quite a stir getting out and across town to catch the train. Leaving our baggage in charge of a porter, we rushed across and boarded a train for the Lake—a twelve mile trip, and we sure enough come to Salt Lake. Shall I tell you about what I saw out at the Lake? Well, there are many things I might say about Salt Lake, but to describe the place will do. It is a stopping place or station, a very large building or buildings, a pavilion for dancing and other amusements, the ferris wheel, Merry-go-round, balls and babies, and many other attractions, and out on the lake they have their motor boats, reel, gasoline and other kinds of boats. Tourists, pleasure seekers, were constantly going and coming in those boats. It is a great place for bathing, and numbers and numbers would be bathing at a time. They reminded me of wild ducks forty years ago on Cumberland river, when they would come in droves and settle down on the water. The bell rings and we are off for the city. On our return we take a street car and take in the sights, and then to our train, go to bed and move on we know not where.

Monday morning found me up early viewing the country, as we swiftly passed. Through this territory we were passing, there were more jack rabbits coyotes and so on than I ever saw before. A gentleman on the train told me that the jack rabbits had become so destructive to crops in some places that it was getting to be a serious question as to what to do with them or about them.

Just here we made a stop switch off of the main track, and while waiting for another train to come we took a little outing. One man had a gun and killed a large rabbit, and the rest of us threw rocks and had the fun of seeing them go. We were traveling through Nevada Valley. Sand as far as you could see, and looked like a body of water lying out before you. No doubt in my mind that there has been many lives gone out trying to cross the Great American Desert. And now as the shade of evening came upon us, we entered upper California. We soon found a change in the atmosphere as we struck the pine forest. Night came on and I was forced to close my eyes not satisfied because we were entering Royal Gorge or Feather River Canon, and not only that, we were told as we retired for the night that there had been a wreck on the road just three miles down the line, and that five cars had been derailed. So I went to sleep under those conditions. Waking up at four o'clock next morning, I found we were still waiting for something, so in a very short time the wreckers began to come in, and whether this was an accidental wreck pure and simple, or a providential one for tourists and sight-seeing people, I never will know. Suffice to say, that we were allowed the sights that we had desired so much to see.

And now to try to write a description Certainly would be vain in me, It's beauties and its granduers You will have to come and see. But a few notes I wish to make Pardon me should I mistake To give you an idea As to just what it is Writing, reading and looking, Going through in a whiz, Its clear gurgling waters, Winding on its own way, And its high top peaks, High as the clouds, I would say, It winds on like a snake That crawls after night. We ran into great tunnels, And we are gone out of sight, Only to come out again, just a little lower down.

Here we readjusted our specks, And again are looking around. Here in this Royal Canon, Lives the Grizzly Bear, Of course I did not stop, Fearing I would find him there.

As we have got down to the city of Sacramento, will tell you a few things that I think I know. I find some of the finest looking farms and some of the prettiest cattle I have yet seen and the city of Sacramento is a beautiful city. Seemed to be plenty of business. Wheat crop the best yet. So many herds of fine cattle. Shorthorns, Herrifords, Holsteins and Jerseys.

Now, back to the land proposition. Fifty miles east of San Francisco and on down to the bay, we find many pretty farms, some beautiful orchards and groves, yards or vine fields. Wheat sacked and stacked by the roadside. Straw also being baled and stacked up ready for the train.

Just here let me stop to say We are in sight, San Francisco Bay, It is Tuesday evening at two o'clock, And we are being hurried to the dock Safely here do we land Completely under our captain's command.

Up the stairway we made the flight, Just for the purpose of seeing a sight, And this we did, don't you know For we were in sight of San Francisco. Allow me here to make a note. That we were ushered onto a boat. Yes, boats are plenty to be seen Although I was afraid of a submarine. There were warships looking fine, And that's the reason I was afraid of a mine.

But across we went safe and sound, Autos waiting was what we found. One thing I remember well Was when we landed at our Hotel. Here we all got very quiet, I am done now, Good night.

Here we are in San Francisco, Wednesday, Aug. 11, 1915. Well, here we are, up early, and ready for the Great Exposition. People are now crowding in and I, like the rest, must go too. We now have spent the day and about it what shall I say? Will it do to just say it is a big show? Well, it is all of that and more. It being the first of the kind I ever saw, it would be very natural for me to say it is the best ever, I believe from what I have seen and heard others say, it is one the greatest Exhibitions this country has ever had. One who stays at home all of his life has but little knowledge as to what is going on in the world or how it is going. I will say some of the Islands have done themselves proud. China has a fine display of silken fabrics and other very notable things. New York has a display and the one that I shall make mention about particularly is her furs and skins and some of the finest furs I ever saw are here on exhibition. Indiana comes along well represented. The women's work was immensely advertised. South Bend Chilled Plows were also advertised. Also other states and machine companies, the Case, the International Harvester Co.; Osborne and others, the Argentina Seal exhibit was something of a show and creatures of the sea and here is something I will spell its name for you and you will have to pronounce it—Tatucoreetodasypus.

Danger Signal.

If the fire bell should ring would you run and stop it or go and help to put out the fire? It is much the same way with a cough. A cough is a danger signal as much as a fire bell. You should no more try to suppress it than to stop a fire bell when it is ringing, but should cure the disease that causes the coughing. This can nearly always be done by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Many have used it with the most beneficial results. It is especially valuable for the most beneficial results. It is especially valuable for the persistent cough that so often follows a bad cold or an attack of the grip. Mrs. Thomas Beeching, Andrews, Ind., writes: "During the winter my husband takes cold easily and coughs and coughs. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best medicine for breaking up these attacks and you cannot get him to take any other." For sale by Paull Drug Co. Adv.

Jacksonville, Nov. 23.
Editor News:—

Trusting I may find space in your paper for a short letter. When I left Kentucky I promised some if I did stay in Illinois that I would write to The News, so they would know where I was. I left Glensfork Adair county, September 26. I got to Jacksonville Ill., September 28. I visited Charley Wilborn and family.

They live in 19 miles of Jacksonville. I also visited Eugene Buster and family. They all seem to like out here and doing well.

I liked out here fine so, I went to work on October 2, and I got a place to live, and wrote back home for the rest of the family to come out here. We live on a farm six miles from Jacksonville but we can see the city from our place. It is so level. The roads are fine here, and the autos are many here.

Jacksonville is a nice little city with 18,000 population. It hasn't any saloons in it. The State asylum is here. There are 2,300 patients here in the asylum. The State Dumb School is here. There are about 1,000 in this school. The State Blind school is here. It is next to the largest blind school in the United States. Since I got here the weather has been fine. I have only been hindered from work one day on account of of bad weather. It is not very cold here. There has been several frosts. Corn shucking is the order of the day now. John Kelsay and myself will shuck about 80 acres of corn for one man. Corn is very good here. It will make from 40 to 75 bushel per acre and is selling at 53c. per bushel in the crib. Wheat is worth 80c per bushel. Oats, 50c per bushel. It was very wet here this summer like it was in Kentucky. People out here raise lots of hogs. Each farmer that has hogs at all have from 100 to 300 head and some have quite a lot of cattle. Some farmers feed as many as 80 head. It seems to me like it would be a good place for Mr. J. A. Young to come to buy cattle. He would not have to ride over so many counties to get a drove. We would like to see a letter from Glensfork each week in the News. Now, if any one wants to write to any of us, you know where we are. Hope I will get time to drop a few lines some other time.

The Louisville Times pays Mr. Huffaker the following compliment: Tobias Huffaker, Superintendent of Schools for Adair county, has set to work to have the compulsory school law enforced. The method is simple—the fining of delinquent parents. It is not to be denied that the law, which fixes the school age at from six to twenty years, works an unnecessary burden on the taxpayer and serves in a measure to account for the large number of "children out of school. Responsibility for the fact that there are some 200,000 children of school age that do not attend school is not, however, to be explained away on the score that the age limit is carried too far. The bulk of the children out of school are under eighteen, and, in not a few instances, the delinquency of parents is responsible. Mr. Huffaker is going at a wrong thing in the right way. More power to his elbow and more of his caliber!

J. P. Lewis wins in his fight before Judge Stout in the race for Secretary of State. The Judge dissolved the temporary restraining order granted Barksdale Hamlett. The Commissioner will now issue a certificate to Lewis, the Republican, who has 115 majority. Hamlett should now quit.

The negro, Jack Henderson, who murdered John Fox, the post master at Glenarm, near Lagrange, Ky., will be tried at Shelbyville. It is very evident that the electric chair awaits him.

It is now Governor Stanley, the inaugural ceremonies having been completed yesterday.

Congress convened Monday and all indications point to a busy session.

WAR SITUATION.

Capture of 15,000 Serbians by the Bulgarians when they took Pristina, the fall of which was reported yesterday, is announced by Berlin to-day. A Bulgarian statement places the number of prisoners at between 16,000 and 17,000, together with fifty cannon and howitzers, 20,000 rifles and much war material.

According to the Sofia War Office, Bulgarian troops are operating successfully against the Allied troops in Southern Serbia. The left bank of the Cerna is reported cleared of the Anglo-French forces, who are declared to have been thrown back several miles.

Mining and aeroplane operations continue on the Franco-Belgian front, both Berlin and Paris reporting successes at various points.

Closely following the visit of Emperor William to Vienna comes the News that three members of the Austrian Cabinet have resigned, the withdrawing members being the Minister of the Interior, Commerce and Finance. successors have been named.

The resignations and the German Emperor's visit have given rise to a wide range of speculation as to the present state of affairs in Austria, particularly as to whether the happenings have any connection with rumored peace moves by Austria or to concessions that might be desired of her with a view to the maintenance of Rumanian neutrality. When the Entente Allies have concentrated 500,000 men in the Balkans, Rumania will deliver an ultimatum to Austria, according to a report current in Bucharest. Demonstrations by members of the Rumanian Parliament who favor intervention in favor of the Entente Allies are reported to have occurred at the recent opening of the session of the Rumanian legislative body.

Rome claims further progress for the Italian armies in their desperate struggle for Gorizia. The current official statement from Vienna admits a slight withdrawal by the Austrians from a small portion of the Gorizia front.

Sinking of the British steamer Kingsway with the probable loss of five members of her crew is reported by London.

According to an Athens dispatch, Serbian soldiers who fell back into Greek territory after Monastir was evacuated were not disarmed, but were treated with notable consideration.

Much suffering is reported among thousands of refugees from Monastir who are arriving at Florina, Greece, after a long tramp through deep snow.

Debarkation of additional British forces at Saloniki is reported through London. A British correspondent at the Greece port, however, declares the military situation there is not satisfactory from a standpoint of the Entente Allies.

A Montenegrin official statement declares that an Austrian attack near Plevlje, in Northwestern Montenegro, a short distance from the Serbian border, was repulsed.

A wireless dispatch from Berlin denies rumors that Germany is contemplating peace proposals. The report that Emperor William is to visit Constantinople is also denied.

London has a report, which lacks confirmation, that twelve miles of German trenches have been taken by the Russians along the road to Tukum, west of Riga.

A dispatch from Petrograd carries the report that Field Marshal von Mackensen was slightly wounded by a Serbian bullet during the Serbian operations.

The British steamers Middleton, of 2,506 tons, and Clan MacLeod, of 4,796 tons, have been sunk by submarines in the Mediterranean. Four men on the Middleton were killed and one was wounded.

Mr. J. O. Bright, of Horse Cave, was here a few days ago.

Mr. J. C. Shirley, son of Mr. R. W. Shirley, is in Louisville for the purpose of having an operation on one of his eyes.

Messrs. L. Spindle and T. W. Spindle, of Louisville, who are uncles of Mr. R. W. Shirley, visited in Adair a few days ago. Mr. Wm. Hudson also came with them.

Mr. J. C. Grier, Nashville, Tenn., was here last Friday.

Mr. J. A. Iddie, of Logan county, a former citizen of Adair county, was in Columbia last Saturday.

Mr. C. S. Harris attended the inaugural ceremonies at Frankfort Tuesday.

Mrs. J. O. Russell came out from Louisville last Tuesday and remained here until Friday. She came to arrange for Mr. Russell's home coming, believing that he would be able to leave the hospital in about two weeks. He is improving daily, and our information is that all indications point to a permanent cure—full restoration to health.

The Idler.

(By Robert Lee Campbell.)

He likes to be called "Mister James,"
While you are simply "Tom,"
And he never tires of talking
About the place "I'm from."
He usually has money, which
Some kith or kin hath made
By dint and brawn till dark from dawn
While he lay in the shade.
He's always IT when he's around,
He takes the best in store,
And you will smile approval, though
You know he is a bore.
Then when he gets the best you have
He passes down the line,
And bumps the other fellow while
Your crop is growing fine.
But when he's gone you cannot rest,
This man is such a bore,
For picture post cards, glowing scenes,
He'll send you by the score.
Then when your work is over and
Your crop is gathered in,
Your larder's stocked, your fruit is ripe,
Your rest may now begin;
But no, the Idler seeks you out
To tell you where he's been.

I have a few fine White Wyandotte roosters I will sell at $1.00 each, Breeding.

Misses Delphia Kinnaird and Corda Fudge spent Saturday night with Miss Nina Simpson.

Mrs. Eva Brown, of New Port Ky., is visiting Mrs. John Simpson, at this place.

Dr. Holland Simpson was seriously ill Saturday night and Sunday, but we are glad to know he will soon be out again.

A lively bustle of socialability in our village is making things move around.

Misses Sarah and Janie Traylor, from Beck's Store, was with Miss Elsie Froedge Thursday night. Misses Corda Froedge, Lula and Lille Fields were guests of Miss Myrtie Janes Monday night. Misses Lelia Garmon and Myrt Janes were with Miss Elsie Froedge Sunday. Miss Rosie Thurman was visiting Miss Viri Rowe Thursday.

The dwelling of John Froedge was destroyed by fire last Tuesday. About everything in the house was lost. There was also a beautiful $180 piano, which he had purchased in Louisville about two months ago. I understand Mr. Froedge is preparing to erect another house on the same site.

The entertainment at Wilson school house last Monday night was greatly enjoyed by Miss Laura Smythe and more than a dozen of her grown pupils from this school. They all say, "Hurrah! for Wilson school"

Miss Corda Fudge entertained the following named young folks Tuesday night: Miss Lula and Lillie Fields, Myrtie Janes; Messrs. Gilliam Branham, Sam Simpson, Harry Harrison and Bob Fudge.

The balloon ascension, at the school house Wednesday afternoon, was an interesting and beautiful sight to the many children, who had never before witnessed an ascension.

J. H. Janes has sold out, and has removed his family to Horse Cave. He and his family will be greatly missed from our community.

Misses Annie Lee Branham and Mary Emma Smith are still holding the medal for being the best spellers in Breeding school.

Born, to the wife of Rollin Branham, Nov. 17th, a son.

Isaac Hurt, who has been quite sick, is out again.

John Simpson lost a fine horse Wednesday. Some trouble with its foot became so serious, that he thought the case hopeless and had it killed.

Sausage and spareribs are every day fare in our section now.

It is told me that the largest crowd ever packed into Breeding school house, gathered Thursday evening to witness the exercises given by the school here. Every thing went off quietly and I am sure no one present was sorry he came for the program was a most enjoyable one. The teacher, Miss Laura Smythe, has the reputation of being a most skilled disciplinarian, and a wonderful expert with young folks, and her management of the school here has proven her worth of the reputation. Her influence in the Sunday School and church work is also highly appreciated. We could recommend her to any community but it is useless since she is not seeking a position and we hope she will not seek a change for many years to come.

Cane Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Chat Dohoney are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Guy Breeding, in Gainsville, Texas.

Bramlette Beard and family, who have been in the hotel business in McKinney, Texas, for the past two years, have returned here to make their future home.

Dr. N. M. Hrncock conveyed Johnnie Biggs, of the Mt. Carmel neighborhood, to the Elizabeth hospital in Lebanon, and operated on him for appendicitis, last week. Young Mr. Biggs stood the operation well and if no back set, he will be home in three weeks, much improved.

An empty house on the farm of the late John H. Beard, was consumed by fire last Monday. Just how it caught is not known. No insurance.

Mr. Leward Smith, of Louisville, bought S. G. Bank's farm last week for $3,000. Mr. Smith and family will move back to God's country. One by one they all get back, and we are glad to have Mr. Smith and family.

J. W. Fourth is visiting his son, Frank, in Chattanooga, Tenn.

Willie VanHoy made a business trip to Loretto last week.

The Band boys are stepping high. They are on the top round of the ladder. When you want to hear some nice band music, come to Cane Valley on Monday nights, when Prof. Sullivan, of Columbia, is with them, and you will be delighted.

CANE VALLEY, No. 2.

In the presence of only a few relatives and friends Mr. Owen Stone and Miss Lindia Penick, two very prominent young people, of near this place, were united in marriage at the residence of W. S. Dudgeon December 1st. We wish them much happiness throughout life.

Several people from this place attended the Thomas sale, near Milltown, last Tuesday.

Mr. W. M. Hancock made a business trip to Liberty, Ky., last Friday.

Mr. E. J. Page and son, Welby, left Saturday, Dec. 4th, for Indiana, for a few days stay.

Esq. W. E. Hancock, who was thrown from his horse and considerably bruised up some days since, is improving.

Quite a number from this place attended the entertainment Nov. 25, at Smith's Chapel, given by their efficient teacher, Miss Mattie Young and her scholars. It was quite a success.

Mrs. Clarence Newton and Mrs. John Bailey, of Spurlington, are visiting friends and relatives at this place.

Mrs. Beard has removed from this place to Bradfordsville. We regret to see them leave.

(By Roger Burlingame.)

Frankfort, Ky. [Special]—Standing in the shadow of the magnificent $2,000,000 Capitol with his eyes resting on the statue of the martyred William Goebel, his friend and counselor, Augustus Owsley Stanley will take the oath of office as Governor of Kentucky at 12 o'clock, Tuesday, December 7, while the greatest throng that ever has witnessed an inauguration in Frankfort will be present to do him honor.

Carrying out his campaign promises Governor Stanley will once more proclaim himself the champion of economy, retrenchment and the rule of the people.

Arrangements rapidly being completed for the inauguration presage the greatest spectacle it has been the lot of Kentuckians to witness and from reports received by the various committees in charge of the details incident to the event, Kentucky from the Beargrass, the Bluegrass, the Pennyridge and the Purchase will be present to lend enthusiastic acclaim to the State's new Chief Executive.

Ohio Visitors Coming.

Vleing with the uniformed marching clubs from Louisville, including the Mose Green Club, the oldest and strongest political organization in the metropolis will be the Duckworth Club, the crack Democratic marching club from Cincinnati whose members will join the throng in Frankfort for the inaugural festivities as a tribute to the former Congressman who in many times of battle has been ever ready to go to the aid of his Democratic brethren in the Buckeye state. Henderson, the home of Governor-elect Stanley will send a special train with a brass band and a thousand enthusiastic "home folks" while Covington, Newport, Paducah, Owensboro, Bowling Green, Shelbyville and Lexington will have marching clubs in the big parade that is confidently expected to eclipse that of any former inauguration.

5000 From Louisville.

From Louisville alone 5,000 visitors are expected and it is believed the greater portion of the population of Lexington will spend the day in the Capital city. Already the advance reservations have exhausted the available supply of hotel accommodations and for days the members of the Accommodations Committee have been at their wits end to find quarters for the thousands of visitors who will be in Frankfort for one or more days. The committee has issued a call to the residents of Frankfort asking them to report the number of rooms they will place at the disposal of visitors and has fixed a standard price of $1.00 for sleeping quarters for persons who remain over night. The committee will have the addresses of all persons who have available rooms indexed and will have members of the committee assigned to the hotels and the depots to take visitors in charge and escort them to houses where they can secure quarters, at the price agreed upon.

The Executive Committee in charge of the inauguration determined to do away with the idea of sending out invitations over the State inasmuch as the ceremony is an event of interest to the whole people and in lieu of the usual invitations has issued a general invitation through the columns of the various newspapers asking everyone to become a guest of Frankfort for the event.

Parade The Big Feature.

Naturally the parade will be one of the chief features of the inaugural day ceremonies with the inaugural ball at night as second in importance on the entertainment program. Here too will be displayed the determination of the committee to avoid any appearance of discrimination and the invitation that has been spread broadcast throughout the State includes attendance at the grand ball. The fact that a majority of the visitors will remain over night and attend the ball is giving the committee some concern and the place for holding it has not yet been decided on. Of course a majority of the visitors simply will attend as sightseers but there will be so many persons dancing that it will require a floor much larger than has been available heretofore.

Robert A. Brawner, chief marshal of the parade and the members of the Parade Committee have formulated plans for the inaugural procession which will start from the historic Capital Hotel and wend its way through the business section and across into the residence district in South Frankfort, enroute to the new Capitol. Chief Marshal Brawner has designated as aides men familiar with the duties of that office and in a majority of cases trained in the military maneuvers.

Program Not Complete.

The exact program for the inauguration has not been completed but will be announced a few days in advance of the event. Governor-elect Stanley is expected to arrive in Frankfort accompanied by Mrs. Stanley and their three sons on Sunday and they probably will be the guests of friends until they take up their home in the mansion. Governor James B. McCreary will introduce Governor-elect Stanley and Lieutenant Governor-elect James D. Black, to whom the oath of office will be administered by Chief Justice Shackelford Miller of the Court of Appeals. The inaugural address of Governor Stanley promises to be interesting not alone because of his gifted powers of oratory but for the reason that he will outline a plan of procedure for the next four years that will accord with the wishes of all Kentuckians.

The arrangements for police protection while the thousands of visitors are thronging the streets and the show places in Frankfort are being carefully looked after by Chief of Police Mangan and Mayor Joseph Rupert. Cincinnati will send a squad of trained men and Louisville and Lexington will furnish thief-takers of recognized ability to insure absolute protection.

Interesting Trip Promised.

Aside from the interesting incidents that will feature the inaugural plans the trip to Frankfort will be made the occasion for thousands of visitors to get a look at the new Capitol, the historic old State House, the Reformatory, the Arsenal, the Institute for Feeble-minded children, the Colored Normal School and the numerous other points of interest.

As usual Col. E. H. Taylor, Jr., proprietor of the Old Taylor distillery will keep open house and incidentally will extend a general invitation to visitors to roam over his magnificent Woodford county farm and see his champion herd of Hereford cattle and other prize-winning stock. Col Taylor's estate is destined to be the rival of the Haggin farm and already is considered one of the show places.

At Baker's distillery and the many others in and about Frankfort the welcome sign will be hung out to visitors while merchants and citizens throughout Frankfort will have the latch-string hanging outside. Warden Wells of the Reformatory is planning a holiday for the unfortunates incarcerated behind the grim walls of the Reformatory and thousands of visitors probably will take advantage of the opportunity to get a glimpse of the inside.

Rain Will Not Interfere.

The committee in charge of the arrangements for the inaugural ceremonies at the Capitol has completed plans whereby a stand may be thrown up in a few hours either inside or out, according to weather conditions. The disagreeable weather that marked the induction into office of Governor McCreary will have little effect should there be a recurrence, for the broad corridors and galleries in the new Capitol will hold several thousand visitors and in the event of rain the stand will be erected inside and the ceremonies held there.

That the attendance will be larger than ever before is conceded. The editors of all the Kentucky newspapers have been placed on the Publicity Committee and through their papers have extended the invitation to Kentuckians to be present and participate in the inaugural ceremonies. The Publicity Committee will have headquarters in a building adjoining the Court House, equipped for the convenience of newspaper men who will be among the visitors and a cordial welcome has been extended to all of the Kentucky newspapermen to be present and partake of Frankfort's hospitality.

The beautiful scenery in and about Frankfort, the drives along the Kentucky river and the splendid roadways radiating from Frankfort will furnish opportunity for visitors to spend a portion of their time in pleasant sight-seeing trips after the inauguration ceremonies are concluded.

Cheap Railroad Rates.

All steam railroads in the State of Kentucky have published rates to Frankfort and return on account of Inauguration Dec. 7th of three cents per mile plus twenty five cents for the round trip. Tickets to be sold on Dec. 6th and 7th good returning until Dec. 9th mid-night.

On above basis the round trip fares to Frankfort and return from the principal cities are as follows:

Louisville	..$1.90	Covington	..$3.55
Lexington	.. 1.10	Newport 3.55
Richmond	.. 1.90	Henderson	.. 6.20

Colds Need Attention.

Internal throat and chest troubles produce inflammation, irritation, swelling or soreness and unless checked at once, are likely to lead to serious trouble. Caught in time Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey loosens the phlegm and destroys the germs which have settled in the throat or nose. It is soothing and healing. Pine is antiseptic; honey is soothing—both to gether possess excellent medicinal qualities for fighting cold germs. Insist on Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. 25c at Paull Drug Co. Adv.

Obituary.

A sad day comes to every home, and this was the case at J. K. P. Dixon's on Saturday, Nov. 13th, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when the Death Angel claimed for its victim, his beloved wife. She was married to Mr. Dixon Nov., 1872. To this union four children were born all of which have preceded her to the grave. In early life Mrs. Dixon was married to Mr. Jeff Moore, he having died. To his union were born three children, all living, two, Mr. Joel Moore, Kniffler, Ky., and Mrs. N. B. Chapman, Garlin, Ky., being present when the end came.

Mrs. Chapman was a faithful attendant upon her mother during her entire sickness. Mrs. W. L. Page, the other daughter, whose home is at Melrose, N. M., did not reach here until after her mother's death. It was a very sad home-coming to Mrs. Page, she having been away for 18 years. It was a touching scene to friends looking on as Mrs. Page looked on the lifeless form of her dear mother. Her mother's last prayer was that she might be permitted to live until her daughter could reach her, but the Father who doeth all things well, saw Cough Medicine for Children.

Mrs. Hugh Cook, Scottsville, N. Y., says: "About five years ago when we were living in Garbutt, N. It promptly checked their coughing and cured their colds quicker than anything I ever used." For sale by Paull Drug Co. Adv.

fit to call her home before her daughter arrived.

Mrs. Dixon professed her faith in Christ at a very early age in life and united with the United Brethren church and lived a consistent Christian life until the end came.

All that a devoted husband and loving children could do was done, but to no avail. She bore her sufferings very patiently, and died with perfect faith in Christ that she was going to share the peace and joys in her Home with Christ, and her dear ones who had gone to the Great Beyond.

A Remedy No Family Should Do Without

No matter how healthy a human being may be it is safe to say that some months are passed without some obstruction of the bowels, in other words, constipation, even if only temporary. The bloating, the dull feeling, the start after the evening meal, if a laxative is not taken that night it is certain that sleep will not be sound, and you will awaken unrefreshed.

Hence, it is important for you and for all the members of your family that a good, reliable laxative be always kept in the house for just such emergency. It is sure to be needed, and when needed you want it at hand. No family that is careful of its health can do without such a remedy. But the question of which remedy to have on hand is also of vast importance.

The laxative most highly recommended by the majority of intelligent Americans as being best for babies and grownups is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

It is a liquid laxative- tonic, mild, and never gripes, is effective on robust people and can be given with safety to an infant. Children like it because of these gentle qualities and because it is pleasant to the taste.

It is the best all-around remedy you can have in the house for any disorder of the stomach, liver and bowels, and many people like R. H. Morgan, Price, Tenn., and Mrs. H. C. Davidson, Warrance, Tenn., say they would as soon be without the necessities as without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

In the Kentucky Senate the Republicans will have six members out of 38 and in the House 38 out of the 100.

Good Health Doubles the Value of Your Services

A half sick man is not worth half pay. A man or woman in poor health makes a poor leader, a poor sort of a parent.

The value of Peruna in the home can scarcely be estimated. It prevents many of the common ailments. It is an excellent remedy for coughs, colds, catarrh, grip, spring fever, tired-out feeling.

The Situation in Mexico.

There are indications that the situation in Mexico is gradually resolving itself into a state of guerilla warfare. Deprived of ammunition the forces of Villa and Zapata are gradually disintegrating into bands of marauders which prey not only upon native and foreign elements in Mexico itself, but cross the border and raid American ranches. Villa has gone so far as to serve notice that he will respect neither American lives nor property, while Zapata kills and burns without taking the trouble to give notice. With forces at his command Carranza is unable to give assurances, though he is undoubtedly doing the best he can to establish peace and security.

The situation is further complicated by pressure brought by foreign nations to secure settlement of financial obligations. Not only Madero but Huerta negotiated large foreign loans, giving concessions which have been practically valueless. Some of these foreign nations now need their money, hence their efforts to collect. But with the currency of Mexico debased and otherwise disordered, payment is practically out of the question. Mexico is exhausted. Its resources have been dissipated. There must be a long period of rehabilitation. If foreign nations will wait they will get the money; if they will not they may suffer loss.

War Upon Pain!

Pain is a visitor to every home and usually it comes quite unexpectedly. But you are prepared for every emergency if you keep a small bottle of Sloan's Liniment handy. It is the greatest pain killer ever discovered. Simply laid on the skin—no rubbing required—it drives the pain away. It is really wonderful.

Mervin H. Soister, Berkeley, Cal., writes: "Last Saturday, after tramping around the Panama Exposition with wet feet, I came home with my neck so stiff that I couldn't turn. I applied Sloan's Liniment freely and went to bed. To my surprise, next morning, the stiffness had almost disappeared, four hours after the second application I was as good as new." March, 1915. 25c. GET RID OF CHILLS AND FEVER

Chills and Fever, or Malaria, are caused by a germ. Millions of these germs are soon multiplied from the few that first find foothold in the blood of their victim.

To RID YOURSELF of these germs you must PURIFY your blood, strengthen the vital organs, and make yourself so robust, vigorous and healthy that they will be CAST OUT to STAY OUT.

DR. THACHER'S Liver and Blood Syrup has been widely known for many years as the "Best Chills Tonic." It has earned this reputation by helping countless THOUSANDS of people, many of them living in the malarial sections of this country, to CLEANSE their blood and BUILD UP their strength so that the fever germs would be cast out of their bodies.

A vast multitude of people take Dr. Thacher's Liver & Blood Syrup to prevent Fever and Chills from attacking them. It is a wise and profitable precaution. It PAYS to fortify yourself against malaria. And if it happens that you neglected to do that, and are now afflicted, it will surely pay you to take instant action and get this reliable remedy working for you at once.

TRY IT AND PROVE that relief is at hand. 50-cent and $1.00 bottles.

Napoleon once said that he could see a dozen ways of getting an army into England, but had never been able to think up a single plan of getting that army out if a reverse came.

The English themselves are now in a position to remember this saying of Napoleon with an army of several hundred thousand men on the Gallipoli peninsula which is unable to go forward and cannot be removed without great hazard.

The original landing of French and English troops at Gallipoli was a difficult enterprise, but the situation then was very different from what it is to-day. The Turks and their German commanders were not informed of the plan and only a small body of troops was ready to resist the landing of the allies. The first men to land promptly "dug themselves in" and their trenches proved strong to hold back the Turks until a sufficiently large army had landed to insure the safe landing of reinforcements.

This was more than six months ago. Since that time the whole situation has changed. An army of 300,000 English and French is faced by at least that many Turks and at many places the lines are very close. Neither the allies nor the Turks can come forward, but the allies will find it hard to get away if it be admitted that the Turkish defenses are impregnable.

This situation is discussed at length by an officer of the American army in the New York Times, and the writer concludes that it will require military ability of the highest order to get the allied army away from Gallipoli, and suggests that, perhaps Lord Kitchener has gone to that front for that purpose. It will be easy, of course, to get the first detachments away, but as soon as the allied line is weakened by the withdrawal of troops for embarkation the Turks may attack, and the position of the last one-third or one-half of the army of invasion may be very perilous. Mr. Sam Underwood and family, of Cropper, Ky., are visiting Dr. S. H. Kelsay, at this place. He is a brother-in-law of Dr. Kelsay. He is also postmaster and depot agent of the above place.

Born, to the wife of Woodruff Hearon, on Thanksgiving, a girl. Mother and child are doing well.

Sam Gribbins, who was raised at Merrimac, was killed by Dan McClain near Loretto last Saturday. The trouble grew out of a divorce suit of McClain and his wife at Lebanon, at which Gribbins was a witness. The remains of Gribbins were brought back to the Merrimac cemetery for burial.

Dr. C. V. Hiestand happened to a very painful accident last Thursday. In handling a pistol it was discharged, shattering the bone of his fore finger. It had to be amputated below the knuckle.

Rev. J. S. Chandler preached an interesting Thanksgiving sermon at the Presbyterian church. He had a large congregation and all were well pleased the way the message was given them. Rev. Chandler is going to be very popular with the church people.

Mr. J. W. Kerr is at Russellville and other points this week, adjusting claims for insurance, and looking after the welfare of the companies he represents.

Mr. Jesse Sims, Lebanon, was at this place Wednesday placing in position nice monuments at the graves of B. Ford and E. F. Turner. They are the nicest pieces of work in Bethel Cemetery, and marks the respects their children have of them as parents.

Miss Elizabeth Turner and Mr. Robert Gaines were married on the 22nd by Rev. A. G. Link. No invitations were sent out, and only a very few intimate friends were present. They will make their home with his parents near Roachville. The bride be remembered by some of your people, as she attended school in your town two sessions.

Mr. J. Hugh Gibson and son, Tom, spent a pleasant week with his son, Walter, at Willisburg, Washington county. Walter is in the mercantile business at the above named place.

Several of the farmers butchered their meat the first of the week. It was not really cold enough to take the risk, but not many think they will suffer any loss.

Corn gathering is almost done, and a good crop has been garnered. Corn is selling at $2.50 a barrel.

A few people enjoyed their Thanksgiving by eating turkey and the accessories that go with such, but such is a luxury this season on account of the scarcity of turkeys. Turkeys are low, selling at 12 cents a pound. Such prices are not much inducement to our people to raise them.

Rabbits are plentiful. Quite a number are being killed and placed on the market. Quail is scarcer than former years. No one reports of bagging but a very few in a day's hunt.

Mr. B. F. Rakestraw is building the Prague church near here for the colored people. He is a first-class mechanic, and the house of worship will be a credit to them as it will be modern in every respect.

Rev. Joe Furkins preached two sermons at Liberty last Sunday. He has been employed as their pastor for the coming year.

Born, to the wife of Charles S. Thorpe, on the 22nd, twin boys. Mr. Thorpe claims his wealth is $10,000 more than it was previous to the advent of the boys.

Prof. George Roberts, of the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, made a very instructive talk to the farmers of Taylor county on the improvement of the soil and modern methods of farming. It is worth while for every one to listen to talks on conserving the soil.

Mr. W. B. Gibson, of Clermont, Kansas, was visiting his brother near here this week. Mr. Gibson was State Superintendent of the schools of Kansas a few years ago. He has made good and shows what pluck will do.

Mr. Jacob Cappock and wife and Mr. Clويد Cappock and wife, motored from Troy, Ohio, one day last week to our town. He has a brother here, and spent several enjoyable days with him. Mr. Jacob Cappock is also a minister, and filled the pulpit for Rev. Link on Sunday.

Mr. Robert Sublett, of Romine and Miss Myrtle Gardener of Saloma, were married by the Rev. J. L. Piercy, Wednesday. Both are highly esteemed, and and all wish them a happy and prosperous married life.

Mrs. Maggie Smith, daughter of J. D. Miller, of Hatcher, is visiting relatives in this county. She lives at Huntington, W. Va.

Mrs. Maggie Turner, who recently sold her property here, moved to Campbellsville this week. W. T. Mardis moved to the property vacated by her, and will continue to farm. Nearly one-half of the property owners and tenants in this neighborhood will live at different homes next year. We never have had as much changing of places to live.

Judge Cloyd had the misfortune to lose five stock hogs this week. He prepared some medicine for them but instead of curing it is thought that it had the opposite effects. His hogs were not thrifty and he thought they needed a tonic.

FEELS NO NEED OF DIETING NOW

J. W. Dougherty Says He Eats All He Wants Since He Begun Taking Tanlac.

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 7.—Among those who have tested the value of Tanlac, the premier preparation, and who are loud in its praise, is J. W. Dougherty, of 2111 West Market street in this city. He is widely known in Louisville. Recently he said:

"For a long time I had been a sufferer from catarrh and stomach trouble. I had no appetite to speak of. Every morning I got up, it seemed to me, feeling worse than I had the day before. I was all choked up, and what sleep I got seemed to do me no good. I tried dieting, but that did not help. My condition got worse instead of better."

"Friends urged me to give Tanlac a trial, finally I did. It was remarkable how quickly it helped me. My appetite improved. It wasn't a question of dieting any longer—I ate all I wanted and I wanted a lot. I began sleeping soundly. I have gained strength and weight."

Many others suffering from catarrh have found relief in Tanlac, just as Mr. Dougherty did. They have made public statements like his in praise of this peerless remedy.

Tanlac is now being sold in Columbia at Page & Taylor's drug store.
